Want to help organizing the Baltic Sea Info Tour?

The Baltic Sea is the most radioactive sea in the world – we want to do an information and action tour around the Baltic Sea in Summer 2010 to connect activists, inform citizens about nuclear dangers, and show that resistance in every day's life is possible. On our way we will come through countries running nuclear power plants near the Baltic Sea: Sweden, Finland, Russia and Lithuania. Indeed, we also have topics to discuss with people in the other countries like Germany and Denmark. How can we support anti-nuclear activities all over the world? What society we would like to live in? ...

We need many people supporting the project and helping with the preparation. Will you participate?

Organize An International Network Office?

We have the idea to build up an international network office to support anti-nuclear and anti-GMO activists around the world. It will be a place with infrastructure for professionally network work. If somebody looks for an expert to a special topic or a speaker from a certain country, the network office will help and connect the people. Someone wants to prepare a campaign against a special company or nuclear plant – we can help to bring interested people together or to find activists who wants to support such activities. We want to support the network process by initiating network meetings, publishing multilingual background information on nuclear issues and by staying in contact with activists all over the world.
